COXEY ON THE MARCH

"Army of the Commonwealth"
En Route to Washington.

LESS THAN A HUNDRED MEN

Cold, Severe Weather, a Heavy Snowstorm, But Little Fire and Less to Eat Are Very Discouraging to the "Volunteers" Their First Day's Experience Preparing for the Army Along the Route.

CLEVELAND, O. March 26.—In the face of a sharp cold wind that brought shivers to the frames of well clad people, Coxe's army marched eight miles yesterday on the road to Washington. There were a few less than a hundred of them. Not to exceed a dozen had overcoats or gloves. They had slept Saturday night on piles of straw in the army and cheerless carous tent at Massillon and they had anything but an agreeable experience.

SILVERMASTER COXE

COMMANDER T. S. COXE

No fire was permitted in the big tent, but there was a heap of blazing logs outside. Every few moments the flaps of the tent were parted by a soldier of the commonwealth who wanted the fire to drive away the chills. Soon he would hurry back to burrow in the straw for another nap and others would take his place. The holes in the party became known just before breakfast. They had so up some of them washed at the river bank and others carried water in pans and heated it over the fire. They burned straw and frolicked about like a troop of boys. A bugle call to breakfast brought them together at the tent with a mat. The hall of fare comprised bread, coffee and raw meat. The latter was roasted to the end of pointed sticks and stuffed over the fire.

One group of five ran away in a body after breakfast and boarded a passing freight car. Thirty of the commonwealthers spent the night as lodgers at the Massillon police station. They camped two outside groups who could not be found when they were needed for pocket duty. They were however on hand for breakfast.

At 8 o'clock, Marshal Louis Smith otherwise the Unknown, announced the march. The camp together and they were found to number 11 groups. They were organized into a company. Smith drilled them on the meadows for half an hour. He had added several formalities of military discipline to the rules of the commonwealth. One of them was the plan of having them march in files of two and a more surprising innovation was the adoption of military salutes. A man who saluted here, however, at the California reformation hall, was given a kicking over by Smith. Among other things he said that the proper way to salute was to shout "Chief Marshal" and salute when his trails of the camp had been completed and the men were luddled around cooking campfires. About two-thirds of the men enlisted under the "Coxey" banner had been disappointed over the non-appearance of the march. The march was delayed by the weather. The march was delayed by the weather. The march was delayed by the weather.

There was a surplus of food for supper but it was not a very appetizing variety. It consisted of coffee, corn, bread and canned fish. But most of the men took it with out murmuring. There was nothing left for a drink but local Populists and Prohibitionists, who were in the army, had a hard time of it. They had a hard time of it. They had a hard time of it.

One of the men had a black coat, but the company applied at a police station for lodging and were accommodated. Coxe stayed at the hotel the night of the 24th. The march was delayed by the weather. The march was delayed by the weather. The march was delayed by the weather.

WEAKENING.

The Gazette Changes the Date of Its Alleged Meeting.

Next It Will Change the People Who Were There.

The cards published in the Times-Democrat Saturday evening, written and signed by Senator Lawlor, Thos. Sullivan and Thos. Greenlund, started the publishers of the Gazette. It exploded their campaign canard and showed the publishers of the morning sheet up in their true light.

When the statements of such reliable men as those mentioned above are placed in the balance with any statement published in the Lima Gazette, the latter will strike the beam.

The political editor of the Gazette has now changed the date of the meeting, and he was enquiring from a friend this morning what names he had better substitute for those of the gentlemen who had proved that they were not at any such meeting as that mentioned. When they change the date and the object of the meeting and amend the list of names, they intend to spring it on the public as another sensation.

The publication of such a foul article as that contained in Saturday's Gazette has already cost the Republican ticket hundreds of votes, and the Republican committee are wild over it. The Gazette attempts to justify itself by claiming that Smiley demanded that it be used to cover up some political work of his own which he does not want brought to light, but which will be exposed before the week ends.

One of the Team of Big Grays, is Dying.

"Jury," one of the team of hand-some big gray horses that has served with the Central Fire Department for the past four or five years, was taken sick Saturday with inflammation of the bowels, and at half past two o'clock this afternoon was thought to be dying.

About eleven o'clock Dr. Blattenburg gave the animal chloral and succeeded in quieting him, but when the goag sounded at twelve o'clock the poor brute, faithful to the last, was aroused, and attempted to get on his feet to go to its post. When it failed in the attempt, "Jury" whined pitifully.

ROUND ABOUT.

A special train was run from here to Kenton and return yesterday afternoon over the C. & D. by the Shawnee Commandery Knights Templar, about thirty-five members of which went to Kenton to attend the funeral services of Sir Knight Charles Canan, of that city.

The Sappho Club are requested to meet at Mrs. Standish's at half past two o'clock Tuesday for rehearsal of chorus.

Saturday night two robust and hearty young fellows applied at the Windsor hotel for something to do to earn a few square meals and a couple of nights lodging. They claimed to hail from San Francisco from which place they started without a cent of money and have made a wager to make a trip around the world. They agreed not to take anything to eat or wear without working or paying for it in some way and say they have not stolen a ride and according to their contract can not. The adventures were given some work and remained at the hotel until this morning, when they continued their journey eastward.

The United States Express Company is still doing business over the Ohio Southern road, notwithstanding the report that they were to be succeeded by the Southern Express Company. The latter deny any intention of extending their service north of the Ohio river.

Capt. Ed. Christen, of Lima, was here on business yesterday. If Mr. Christen could find a renter he would erect an elegant brick block on the twenty-two feet immediately north of the Van Marter block. There's a chance for some enterprising young business man to have a room erected to suit him.—Upper Sandusky Union.

Bruce Oylor, the Pennsylvania passenger agent, was one of a party of hunters who visited Lewiswood a couple of days ago. Bruce got into a boat about 4 o'clock in the morning taking his gun and a supply of ammunition along with him and went out to the lake by himself to be ready for duck shooting. He was a good piece out when a strong wind came up and he sought refuge on a 2x4 island, being unable to do any shooting from the boat owing to its being carried along by the wind and he failed to do so and Bruce began to figure on getting ashore. The heavy wind kept his companions from going out onto the water, and Bruce began calling to them but to no avail. He brought his gun into use when his voice failed to bring anyone and fired a dozen or two shots. Bruce had about given himself up as a lost soul when he saw a light in the distance. TOOK IT ALL.

A. C. & E. Engineer a Target of by His Wife.

This morning about seven o'clock an exciting scene was witnessed at the C. & E. depot, by those who happened to be in that neighborhood. Engineer Harry Plimott, who runs on the east local, was the victim of a very humiliating affair.

Plimott left home shortly before five for the train to leave and went into Seiber's restaurant. His home being within sight of the restaurant, he was followed by his wife who met him at the door and began striking him in the face. He did not offer resistance and his clothing, and engine, which she started, using him as a target for coupling pins, link, stoves, and whatever she could find to throw. She continued her target practice until the husband reached his engine. When the train pulled out she ran along beside the engine and threw coal at Plimott until the engine moved to far for her to keep up with it.

The trouble seemed to have originated yesterday when Plimott went to Kenton on a special train. She wanted him to stay at home and send an engineer in his place, which he could not do.

About fifty people witnessed the affair.

SMILEY.

An Expensive Luxury Wherever He Is Placed.

It Cost the Taxpayers of Lima Nearly Three Hundred Dollars to Have His Books as Clerk of this City Audited.

The Investigating Committee Reported His Books "In a Very Tangled Condition," and

Charges "Gross Errors in Making the Proper Entries."

James Vernal Smiley aspires to be mayor of the city of Lima. His aspirations are doomed to defeat, for he will be turned down one week from to-day by the voters of this city.

James is a chronic office seeker, and although he has succeeded in breaking into public office, twice since his advent in Lima, his career in that capacity has not been such as would commend him to the public on grounds of efficiency.

Dropping into Lima about four years ago and not being desirous of earning his bread by the sweat of his brow, and believing a public office to be a private seat, he applied to the School Board for the position of "child chaser," sometimes known as truant officer, and in that capacity posed as the terror of the small children who felt impelled to play hooky. After having lived off the public awhile in that capacity, he was, by the grace of the Republican majority in the council, elected city clerk.

For two long, weary years the people endured him as clerk, for the very good reason that he could not help himself. With the advent of a Democratic council he was turned out of office. It was then, after his successor had been appointed and the books of ex-Clerk Smiley had been opened, that it was determined by the Council to INVESTIGATE HIS BOOKS.

In which the city's accounts were kept. Oliver S. Langman and Thomas Sullivan were appointed to the work, and in such chaotic condition were the books that it took about a month to perform this service which cost LIMA'S TAXPAYERS NEARLY $300.

This investigating committee, appointed by the council on July 5th, 1932, finished its labors August 19, and returned a very exhaustive report. They stated, "We find a large number of the accounts in a very tangled condition. Yet James Vernal Smiley, while doing the foregoing, was being paid $1000 a year from the city treasury, out of the taxes wrung from Lima's taxpayers.

"GROSS ERRORS IN MAKING THE PROPER ENTRIES."

Continuing in the report of this investigation this committee, after further progress, says that there are "gross errors in making the proper entries." Yet this same James V. Smiley was costing the taxpayers $83.33 a month for such service.

As the investigation continues the committee goes on to say: "The system used in keeping the accounts is very inferior," and cites instances wherein Clerk Smiley has issued orders No. 1531 and 1552 in excess of the amount which they should have called for.

There are other features which will come up during this week, equally interesting, in connection with Smiley's public career.

The tax payers of Lima do not want such a man clerked. The office is an important one, and a man who, during two years experience in the Clerk's office, developed incompetency to manage its affairs, is not a proper person to put at the head of the city government. There is a demand for a clean, honest man in the Mayor's office, and such a one the Democrats present in the person of Thomas Greenlund. Election him and a clean administration will follow.

GREGAINS HERE.

Ready for His Fight With Bayliff To-night.

Can Riley, the well known Middletown pugilist, who has assumed the management of Alex Gregains, the middle-weight pugilist of California, arrived in the city last night and put up at the Burnett House.

Gregains is here to go on with Dan Bayliff to-night, when the latter's friends and others will have an opportunity to see him don the mits with a man who has put out a number of good ones, among them being Costello twice, one fifty and one eighty round mill, the Marine in fourteen rounds, and McCarty in twenty rounds.

Gregains is too heavy now for the light-weight class, and is out with a challenge to fight any middle-weight man in the world.

Growing Heads.

"Head's grown, sir," observed my hatter, one day to me, manipulating the interior of my topper with a foot rule, and when I indignantly disclaimed the soft impeachment he added, "All my customers' heads grow sir up to 60, excepting the ecclesiastical gents' and theirs don't grow after 25." Herein doubtless lies the reason why clerical headgear is so characteristic of the man beneath, for never was a greater fallacy than the adage that "it is not the owl that makes the monk,"—London Globe.

THE PACE THAT KILLS.

A Notorious Courtesan Career About Closed.

Frank Morrison, a Handsome Woman in Her Day, Taken to the Infirmary.

About nine o'clock last night a poorly clad woman with despair pictured in her every feature, appeared at the police station and stated that she was sick and wanted to be sent to the county infirmary. No one at the station seemed to recognize her and the woman asked: "Don't any of you know me?" They replied in the negative, and she continued: "I am Frankie Morrison, whom all of you know well. I am very sick and want to die, but have no place of shelter and would like to be sent to the infirmary."

It was easily seen that the woman was sick, and her face looked so haggard that those who had seen her but a few days before at the police station, when she was locked up for drunkenness, did not recognize her. She was temporarily made as comfortable as possible at the station, while a physician and city infirmary Maguire were sent for.

The physician arrived and upon making an examination, found that she was suffering from chronic bronchitis, a complication of diseases and that she was in a very bad condition. She was given some medicine to allay her sufferings, and after her application for admittance to the county infirmary was made out she

WAS REMOVED TO THE CITY

Hotel and given comfortable quarters for the night. This morning she was placed in an ambulance and taken to the county poor house, where she will doubtless never emerge alive.

Frankie Morrison has been one of the most notorious women of all time over in this city. She was born and spent her early days near Ada and came to this city about twelve years ago and has spent most of her time here leading a life of crime. She has been locked up at the police station many times for being drunk and disorderly and was well known by every policeman in the city as a tough character.

She originated from a well respected family named Roberts and was in her younger days quite handsome and was fairly well educated. She has one brother and a sister living in some part of this State. Her parents are dead.

An Old Man Murdered in His Own Home by His Daughter and Wife.

HONOLULU, Ga., March 26. J. F. Willis was killed last week by his daughter Lillian and his wife. The news of the tragedy did not look out for several days, until a son, Francis, 11 years old, told it to neighbors. The daughter and mother were both arrested and given a preliminary trial.

The father testified that his father came home from work about dark and called for his supper. After beginning to eat his meal, a difficulty arose between the father and mother, and the latter took the son from the room and put him down before the fire, when Lillian, a girl about 15 years old, struck him with the ax, cutting a gash in his skull. When his back was turned, the mother took the son from the room and put him down before the fire, when Lillian, a girl about 15 years old, struck him with the ax, cutting a gash in his skull.
